

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1888.

NO. 14.

COO IS LOVE AND NOTHING ELSE.

PRaise THE LORD.

LETTER FROM GEORGE D. BARNES

117 INTENDENCIA ST., PENSACOLA, FLA.
MARCH 22, 1888.

DEAR INTERIOR:—Every phase of social life can be met with here. One of them is illustrated by the following, clipped from one of last week's daily issues. In its unique simplicity and straightforwardness, I don't know that it can be surpassed. I have not heard whether "Domineque" has shipped "Santo" yet. Let us hope they made friends. The foreign flavor of the whole transaction is unmistakable. What Anglo-Saxon-Israelite would ever go at an opponent in this style?

But here is the document:

Notice.

While attending to my lawful business on the wharf last Saturday morning, Santo Carrigano, an oyster dealer, slipped up behind me and, without a word or any provocation from me, pushed me overboard and then ran away like a coward. Now if the Santo Carrigano will meet me in a fair fight, without weapons, the best man wins and all will be right. If he will not do this or apologize to me, I intend to slap him in the face whenever and wherever I meet him.

DOMINEQUE MATTEI.
Oyster Dealer, Nos. 108 and 110 South Tarragon street.

It takes all sorts of people to make a world, don't it?

Our dear Capt. Petterson took us down the Bay in a sail boat to his villa, a few days ago, and the trip was a new excitement for us all. To pull out into this glorious harbor and wind in and out among the shipping at anchor, each vessel with a raft of logs about it, from which it is taking in cargo, is an invigorating sight to behold. There are not wharves enough to accommodate the multiplied keels; and as lumber is the one thing exported, that can be taken in more readily, in fair weather, out in the Bay than nearer shore.

You approach a lumber ship taking in cargo, and it stares at you out of two great square eyes, near the water, on either side of the bow. These are sections of the solid structure of the ship, that can be removed and put back, at pleasure. They are arranged for, in the construction of the vessel, and are, at a guess, about three feet square. Through these apertures the long sticks of timber are thrust and easily stowed within. This greatly facilitates the vessel's loading, and saves the hoisting over the sides and putting down hatchways, that has to be done in stowing cargo in iron steamers, for example, where these square openings could not well be made.

Most sailing vessels have four of these square eyes in front; and when the lower tier gets too near the water line, by the sinking of the vessel's hull from the weight of cargo, these two are fastened up; unhooked, made perfectly secure, and the rest of the load taken in at the "second story" windows. These, too, are shut up when there is no more loading to do, and off goes the graceful creature, with white, outspread wings, bearing her stowed-up treasure to other climes.

Beautiful is the panoramic glory of this exquisite sheet of water. The wind was not in our favor, and the stork-colored oarsmen propelled our little boat as we slowly crept down the graceful beach, for the mile and a half that separates the captain's house from the city's center. The girls sang their little Minstrel songs, greatly to the admiration of our boatmen. A darkey's natural expression of delight is a good, hearty laugh. Deny him that, and you obliterate him. It was ludicrous to behold our oarsmen. They nearly choked to suppress the merriment that bubbled up from the depths of their moustached natures. It was the "unknown tongue" that "got" them.

By and by we reached the mouth of the Bayou Chico, where the captain's "possessions lie." We sent back our borrowed sail boat and got into the captain's own, for our further voyage up the bay-let, first halting on his private pier where as many oysters as we wanted; the bivalves being simply drawn up in a rake from a bed of them, all around the pier, where they had been planted as "youngsters," were now fine fat fellows, and some of them prodigious.

The captain's beautiful sail boat he built himself—for he is a perfect nautical genius—and he can say he planned her, cut out every timber, planed every board; fastened every bolt; drove every nail; painted and fitted her out, complete. She sits on the water like a duck and is a "daisy."

Beside this boat-house I saw a stork ship's yawl, tied up, that sat sturdily on the water, riding with immense buoyancy, the sort of a craft one would like to be in, with a high sea running. I asked the captain what she was.

"That boat has a history," he answered. "She saved 14 men from going to the bottom. She belonged to a British barque that was wrecked in the Gulf. For four days they were out in this boat, in the open sea, and at last were picked up by a passing vessel, that ran across their track. It was in my power to help them when they landed," he modestly added, without telling us the particulars of all he would do for a shipwrecked crew. Our imagination supplied the details, knowing him as we do, the dear open-hearted, open-handed sailor that he is. "Well," he went on, "when they sailed for home the captain came to me and said: 'We can't repay you for your kindness and you don't want it; but we all have agreed that we want you to keep the good boat that saved us, to remember us by.'"

With what respect, after this little talk, I looked upon the stork yawl and thought of the life saving it had done. It nodded gently at me, with rise and fall of the tiny wavelets that beat against the pier, as if to say, "Yes! I feel a little proud of that job. It makes me feel so good to think of it, tied up by the nose, to this wharf, as I have to be; and I long to be out again, mounting the 'white raps' and saving more lives." It looked the Baiton it was, every inch, of every sturdy timber in its stout frame; every strong plank that lined her length and breadth, as if bidding defiance to wind and wave.

Oysters boiled, we embarked on the "Ernest James" (the captain's two boys give a name to his boat) and our colored oarsmen quickly rowed us up Chico Bay.

What a lovely sheet of salt water it is, varying from a quarter to a mile in width; and two miles inland, branching right and left in choppy bits of river, running up a couple of miles each way till they head in springs, or a tiny creek of fresh water. Fine depth of water, from 14 feet in the deeper parts to 5 or 6 near shore. Beach shelving gradually, for perfect bathing; banks with every variety of beautiful outline; here a bold bit of bluff, there a fine picturesque point jutting out sharply into the bay; pine forest fringing the whole wavy margin and stretching back into the interior; fish of the finest varieties fairly swarming; oysters clinging in native profusion to every log and pile, and growing rapidly if planted in beds, under the most favoring circumstances; crabs in abundance also; glorious stretches for a sail boat to man-ouvre in; in short, one of the most delightfully attractive bits of water I have met in much travel. All this only 14 miles from Pensacola court-house; and is in the "city limits" on paper.

We rowed up to the head of the right arm of the bay and there the good captain had carriages waiting to drive us back to town.

We shall not soon forget this enchanting trip. The reason Pensacola has, thus far, remained unknown, is that she has been cut off practically from her own country by lack of railroad communication; and her energy has been expended in cultivating her foreign trade in lumber. Always, in winter, her incomparable harbor has been crowded with shipping from many countries, but all in search of one thing—the superb and cheap yellow pine lumber that the Florida forests yield in almost inexhaustible quantity. The whole life of the city was a "stevedore" one. To victual, supply and load these foreign vessels was the entire ambition of Pensacolians.

But a new era is dawning on her business men. A branch railroad put them in contact with the country north of them. The possibilities of other industries find a congenial home in this favorable site and healthy locality are first looking up before hitherto short-sighted optics; and the Rip Van Winkle slumber of this queenly city is about broken. The first who recognizes the new era will make the fortunes. The boom is bound to come, indeed is almost begun. Its basis:

1. Pensacola is the only real first-class seaport and safe harbor on the Gulf Coast.

2. It is the nearest point to the great growing South American trade.

3. It is on one of the healthiest spots, summer and winter, on the continent. Climate far preferable to the soft and balmy eastern coast of Florida—lovely as that is.

4. The navy yard is already here and the moment Northern jealousy, now on its "last legs," will admit, it will spring, with a bound, to the place of a first-class ship builder. The "U. S. Navy" will not always be the shadowy myth it is. "Britannia rules the waves," I know, but Columbia is bound to be 2d best in the near future.

5. The lumber is inexhaustible.

6. The factories for the supply of the South American trade will never find a better locality than this; and once a railway to Memphis is built, the cotton will pour into this port for European shipment by the million.

7. No finer site for a grand city of many hundreds of thousands can be found; pure water, lovely climate; romantic surroundings and land and sea advantages taken into comparison and consideration.

8. The fisheries are, for abundance and variety, unsurpassed. Such a beautiful assortment of game fish it would be hard to find. Oysters grow to everything on which a shell can be attached.

But I must pull up, or you will think I am slightly "enthused" on Pensacola. I believe I am, but the puff is a "labor of love." I'm not paid for it.

Every breath of salt air has new life and vigor in it for us all.

Meeting quite a success. Praise the LORD!

Ever in Jesus, G. D. BARNES.

MT. SALEM.

—Rev. Allen Butt requests us to state that he will preach at the Baptist church in Middleburg next Sunday.

—Men can be seen huddled up around here at present, but it is not because they are cold. It is Davidson's road law.

—Young man, you will lose your money if you do not buy your suit from W. T. Richards & Co. They now have on hand $1,800 worth of clothing.

—Considerable traffic in sheep and hams is going on here at present and some farmers are refusing 10 cents per pound for their 65-pound hams to be delivered at once.

—Mrs. Cox, a pension agent in this section, is sick and Mr. E. Tarrant is acting for her business for the present. East is a loss hand at such business. Mr. M. L. Richards is going to Woodbine today on business.

—We regret to learn that Mr. Wm. Lipe, who runs a hack from Liberty to Yosemite, has not yet healed his ankles. After so ably explaining the advantage and importance of those bells to Senator Rigney and securing a perfect right to that gentleman, who caused a special act to be passed by the legislature therefor, in perhaps a single day at a cost not exceeding $5,000, we cannot see why he does not put them on and let us hear their melodious jingling daily. Perhaps he is waiting for money to be appropriated to buy the bells and straps, but if this is the case we think some friend should advise him not to impose on good nature.

Trixie, the Romp Heiress.

The good-sized audience at the Opera House last night was delighted with the pleasing rendition of "Trixie, the Romp Heiress," by Miss Jessie Bonstelle and her excellent company. The play is a pleasing romance of a young girl, who inherits a fortune and gains a husband about the same old story, but nicely told. The play introduces pretty songs, dances, and a pleasing run of specialties by accomplished artists. The cast is good throughout, each person in it being a star in his or her part, and as a whole the entertainment is full of fun and does what the author evidently intended—keeps the audience in the utmost good humor. As Bessie May, called "Trixie," Miss Jessie Bonstelle is charming. She is only 16 years old and certainly has a bright future before her; indeed she is far better than half the actresses who have scored great successes and captured the hearts of city audiences. She may well be called the "fascinating little favorite." As Bob Linwood, the artist, Mr. Edwin Hanford proved himself equal to the occasion, and won for himself great favor. Mr. J. A. DeLarge captured his audience by his unusual specialties, while Tony West, the "coon," was a general favorite. The rest of the cast was good. (Pern. Ind., Evening Journal.)

At Walton's Opera House, April 2.

As an antidote for a consumptive tendency it is claimed that cream acts like a charm, and serves all the purposes intended to be served by cod liver oil, with much greater certainty and effect. Besides persons consumptively inclined, those with feeble digestions, aged people and those inclined to chilliness and cold extremities are especially benefited by a liberal use of sweet cream.

It has now been decided in the courts of six different States that the men who precipitate a strike and cause a loss to a contractor can be held liable for damages. The precipitators are, however, the chaps who always wriggle out of any responsibility and who live in clover while the workmen are reduced to starvation.

A receipt for a wash or any other preparation for the hair that will make it curl. Take horax 2 ounces, gum arabic 1 drachm, add hot water (not boiling); stir, and as soon as the ingredients are dissolved, add 3 tablespoonfuls of strong spirits of camphor. On retiring wet the head with the above liquid.

Patti has made her "last appearance," 27 times, her "positively last appearance" nine times, has "permanently retired from the stage" seven times, has "retired to spend her days in her castle" three times and is now getting ready to take another whack at the public and retire again.

Syrup of Figs

Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to cleanse the system when Bilious or Costive; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to Cure Habitual Constipation, Indigestion, Piles, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Go to F. L. Thompson's for your clothing.

—Pneumonia is quite prevalent throughout the county.

—Frank Moore's 18-month-old child died of diphtheria Saturday.

—Mrs. E. J. Evans and daughters arrived from Zanesville Wednesday.

—Jack Stokes is the proud father of twins and Harvey Mink a 14-lb. boy.

—Thompson is selling those nobly suits rapidly. Call early for a bargain.

—W. A. Owens sold to George Denny a tract of coal land on Round Stone for $800.

—The late rains have made a tide for the log and timber men and they are taking advantage of it.

—The Somerset and Loyal Green mails were water-hoisted and arrived one day late here over the star route.

—We are told that W. L. Martin, agent for the K. C. road at Livingston, will be married to Miss Maggie Quinn Thursday.

—S. G. Fish, of Iowa Point, Kansas, formerly a citizen of this county, writes that his wife died last week, after a short illness.

—Dan Quinn, while working in the mines at Livingston a few days since, had some slate to fall on him, seriously injuring his back.

—The old Boone's Fork school district that was abolished when Brodhead was incorporated, has been re-established by the county superintendent. The district will be the same as it formerly was, except that it does not include Brodhead limits.

—Meshack Hentry is back from Bell county on a visit. T. N. Roberts has returned to Barboursville. E. M. Denny and J. N. Brown, of Level Green, were in town Tuesday. Conductor Chas. Turner was out the line one day this week.

Judge Fish is but little better. And, Preceptor is improving some.

—One of the pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

—The pathetic incidents connected with the death of Mrs. J. E. Allen was the arrival here Tuesday, one day after the burial, of an only daughter, who lives at Danville, coming to see her mother. She had not heard of her parent's death and when told of it on her arrival, her intense grief was pitiful to behold.

—Good Advice—"Don't waste your time talking spitefully to the station agent, when you find that you have missed your train. Buy a pint of peanuts and scatter the shells all over the station floor. That is about the only way in which you can get even with the company. If this does not attract attention, then spit tobacco juice on the stove, floor and walls. It puts everybody in a good humor."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of the Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and now on my third bottle and able to overcome the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jesse Middlewat, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in the best of health." Sample bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A pure medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other eruptions caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial Fevers. For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at A. R. Penny's drug store.

SALT.

Seven-bushel barrels at $1.75 at Isaac Hamilton's, Rowland.

FOR SALE.

House and 25 Acres Land. Two miles South of Stanford on Neal's Creek. W. CRAIG.

RAMSEY'S MEAT SHOP.

Having bought L. M. Lasley's scales and blocks and moved the cellar he occupied, I will move there for the present with my meat. Remember the place, under VanArsdale store room 5-11. W. F. RAMSEY.

S. O. DAVIS, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, MT. VERNON, KY.

Office next door to Whitehead's Drug Store. Special attention given to diseases of children. 277-1f.

To Farmers of Lincoln and Casey.

I have bought the "Pride of Nelson" Siles' patent. We can save you 30 per cent. on square rail fence—will make your old post-and-rail fence stand as long as it falls down as it has stood, and stronger than it ever was, for five cents per panel. A. R. McKINNEY, Casey, Ky.

W. E. McKINNEY, Agent, Stanford.

F. REID, S. G. HUCKER, SKE. A. C. SINE, SEPT.

STANFORD PLANING MILL COMPANY

Manufacturers of Flooring, Weatherboarding, Ceiling, Finishing Lumber, Mouldings, Sash, Etc. Sash, Doors and Blinds always in stock.

MILLINERY!

We have received and are daily receiving our elegant line of Spring Millinery. We have left nothing undone to make our stock first-class throughout. Besides our Millinery, we will have a well selected line of Ladies' Embroidery. Call and examine our stock. Store on Lancaster st. to CURTIS & COX.

SADDLERY!

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., MARCH 30, 1888

W. P. WALTON.

SEVERAL persons who really ought to have better sense, have said to us, "If Gov. Buckner is the watchful man you give him credit for being, why didn't he veto Davison's road bill?" It is not the governor's prerogative to veto bills unless there are constitutional objections to them or they militate against the public good. There is nothing unconstitutional in the road bill as passed and the governor did not know but what every man woman and child, to say nothing of their sisters and their cousins and their aunts, were howling for it to become a law. No, dear, ignorant friends, no blame whatever can be laid on Gov. Buckner. The blame is solely and entirely on the individual who, without consulting anybody but his master, Bradley, had the bill passed against reason and against sense.

WM. DORCHESTER, ex-lieutenant governor of New York, when Tilden was governor, and at the time of his death editor of the New York Star, died suddenly in Savannah, Ga., Tuesday of pneumonia. He and his wife left their home several days ago, at which time he was in perfect health, but he took cold, which rapidly developed into the disease that killed him. He held many offices of trust and honor during his life of 56 years, including Congress, U. S. District Attorney for New York and others nearly as important. He was a strong supporter of Cleveland's administration and his loss will be felt by the President in the Empire State.

It begins to look like Sherman is not such a favorite son of Ohio after all. He indicated his choice for delegates to the convention from the 8th district, but two other men were chosen, one an old enemy, the other an out-and-out Blaine man. Perhaps Gen. Landrum is wrong after all about the big and warm heart that beats in Sherman's bosom and that he really is the cold, unsympathetic individual he has been taken to be. At least some of his home folks seem to incline to the latter belief.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: "There is a striking probability that the investigation ordered of the accounts of the absconding Treasurer of Kentucky will prove a farce." That would no doubt be the result of such an investigation in Ohio if the defaulter was a republican with the party in power republican. But nothing less than a sweeping examination, it matters not whom it will hurt, will satisfy honest Kentucky democrats and this they intend to have.

BRO. HILL, poor fellow, has perhaps suffered from both and has a right to this wall: "Bro. Barnes in the Extension Journal a few days ago pronounced a eulogy on the note, and now the editor of that paper is defending the mother-in-law. Notwithstanding such able and influential advocates, however, it is difficult to believe that either of these members of the society is any better than they have been painted."

RECENTLY Judge Toney, of Louisville, decided that the wages of a man with a family were exempt from garnishee, even for necessities furnished. Judge Fields, of the same city, holds, however, that "both the letter and the spirit of the statute provide that wages should be liable to debts created for food, clothing or house-rent for the family," otherwise poor men would be unable to obtain credit at all.

JUDGE S. G. SHARP has been appointed temporary treasurer of Kentucky by Gov. Buckner and has accepted. A bond of $100,000 was required. Judge Sharp is chairman of the State Central Committee and county judge of Fayette. His countymen protest almost in a body against his resigning the latter office for any other in the gift of anybody, a fact which shows how highly they esteem him.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY, the old gal whom nature made a mistake in not making a man, declared in her speech opening the Women's Convention at Washington, that if suffrage was not granted "the women will strike hands with labor, with socialists, with anarchists, and you will have the scenes of the revolution of France re-enacted over again in this republic." Let her go Gallagher.

This infernal devil has made many converts to his doctrine that the devil is the author of it, but more were outspoken than Bro. Logan, of the Louisville Times, who henceforth and hereafter will advocate it with all the "irrepressibility of the irrepressible young man."

The whole State is howling because Col. Johnston was permitted to prevent the investigating committee to examine Tate's papers, &c., in the Treasury. The colonel ought to have been shoved aside. There is no time now for shenanigans.

The movement in land at Kansas City was never so great as at present. The whole bluff is about to slide in and demolish the ambitious little city, which has striven so hard to work up a boom.

CONGRESS is investigating the question of land adulteration, which is said to be made of almost anything except hog fat. A retired pork packer of St. Louis testified before the committee that land is manufactured from diseased hogs, entrails, hoofs and hair and a chemical analysis of some of Armour's shows 15 per cent. of stearine and only 25 per cent. of good lard. Another firm's showed 35 per cent. of water and the balance made up largely of cotton seed oil and other grease. The developments have caused the makers to squirm and the consumers to howl for vengeance.

THE woods of the 11th District are full of possible candidates to redeem it from Findley away. Gen. Walcott has announced himself. Gen. Hindman is thinking about doing so and so is another Adair man. They also say that O. H. Waddle, of Somerset, is cogitating whether to run or not to run. We would not be surprised if he would not be the most available man the democrats could select. He is a sharp fellow, a fine mixer and a good orator, and would likely come nearer carrying Pulaski than any other democrat.

COL. A. M. SWOPE, in a letter to the Maysville Republican, says he is uncompromisingly for Sherman and Hawley. This too in face of the fact that Brer O'Bradley wants the second place on the ticket. On the other hand Judge Denny who erstwhile did not take any stock whatever in Bradley is for him for vice-president first, last and all the time and made a speech at Lexington in his favor. The crowd seemed to be with Swope, however, for he was chosen over Denny for district delegate.

Nor a day passes over his honored white head which does not demonstrate that the election of Simon Bolivar Buckner to be governor of Kentucky was the proudest act ever done by a grateful constituency. He is a man all over and the very one to be at the head of affairs during these troublous times. Next to Grover Cleveland we regard him as the grandest man of his day.

GEN. HEWITT demands a full and complete investigation of the affairs of the auditor of Simon Bolivar Buckner to be governor of Kentucky was the proudest act ever done by a grateful constituency. He is a man all over and the very one to be at the head of affairs during these troublous times. Next to Grover Cleveland we regard him as the grandest man of his day.

THE impeachment trial of "Honest" Dick Tate was held yesterday. Of course it was a merely formal affair, with the verdict settled in advance. It is a pity this could not have been done before the Canada net was accomplished.

NEWS CONDENSED.

Four of the Bald Knobbers have been sentenced to die July 6th.

Thomas P. Miller & Co.'s Mobile banking house failed for $200,000.

Another severe storm is raging in northern Wisconsin and Minnesota.

In his lecture at Louisville the great Talmage eulogized the game of base ball.

In Ballard county Thomas Harvett shot and killed himself while hunting.

The New Jersey legislature passed the local option bill over the governor's veto.

Maj. P. P. Johnson will probably be elected to succeed County Judge Sharp, of Fayette.

Judge Kellar, of New Orleans, killed himself because his political allies deserted him.

John Brooks, father-in-law of Deputy Sheriff Scott, killed himself at his home in Jessamine.

The late Mr. Dorshimer was a real giant, standing 6 feet 11 inches and weighing over 300 pounds.

Two feet of snow covers the most of Dakota and it is still snowing, with railroad travel suspended.

The snuffies of Tate have had 100 barrels of old whiskey in bond at Fayette county levied on for their benefit.

General orders have been issued by the Queen and Crescent prohibiting employees from entering saloons at any time.

There was a tremendous rainfall in Alabama Tuesday night, which did great damage and caused the entire stoppage of trains.

By the carving of a bank on Castle Hill, at Vicksburg, Wednesday, five school children were buried under a heavy mass of earth.

Congress passed a bill appropriating $5,000 for the funeral expenses of Chief Justice Waite. This is the way the people's money goes.

The floods along the Vistula, Elbe and other have submerged 40 villages and rendered 8,000 persons homeless and in ruined circumstances.

It is stated that Tate was heavily into the wheat deal with the Fidelity bank at Cincinnati and blew in a good $100,000 in that item alone.

The house of Mrs. Peter Bertine, of Bathurst, N. B., was burned during the absence of the mother and two young girls were burned to death.

George N. Hawes, of Paris, died after 10 years of self-chosen seclusion in one room, and never voluntarily speaking to any one in that time.

The president and cashier of the Raleigh State National Bank have joined Tate in Canada with $45,000 of the bank's funds and it has failed for $250,000.

The floods along the Vistula, Elbe and other have submerged 40 villages and rendered 8,000 persons homeless and in ruined circumstances.

A shortage of $150,000 has been discovered in the accounts of H. F. Royce, treasurer of the Willemantic, Conn., Savings Institution. He was a republican.

Young Cox, of Springfield, Mo., announces that notwithstanding his sweetheart's beauty is forever ruined by his cowardly father's vitriol, he intends to marry her.

Sixteen Mormons at Provo, Utah, have been given six months and fined $500 each for living with more than one wife, contrary to the provision of the Edmunds law.

The Village of Ninesenah, Kas., was destroyed by a tornado. Only three houses were left standing in the town. Three persons were killed and 17 seriously wounded.

An Indianapolis man has received a letter from Rome that reports Hon. J. G. Blaine is in wretched health, broken down physically and not likely to live the year out.

Smith Stewart, a farmer residing near Holman Station, Ind., while preparing an onion bed, unearthed a jar containing $12,000 in gold and silver coin.

There was a tremendous landslide on the bluff facing the Union Depot at Kansas City, Mo., caused by the heavy rains. Great damage to property is threatened.

Kaiser William left a little fortune of $75,000,000. He was a little less than half as rich as Vanderbilt, and almost as rich as Jay Gould. Queen Victoria has 30 or 40 millions.

All postmasters who get $500 salary and over are now required to back stamp letters. Heretofore the back-stamping of letters was only required to be done at offices of the $1,000 class and higher.

There is this difference. The democracy discover and expose their own dishonest officials. In the case of republicans somebody outside of the party has to find them out. (Georgetown Times.)

The North Jellico Coal Company, lately organized, will open this year a mine at Woodbine, with a capacity of 500 tons daily. Have a four-foot seam. They own about 2,000 acres of coal land.

The Seventh Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in the Department of Kentucky will be held at Maysville, April 17 and 18. Grand Commander Red is expected to be present.

This poor fellow couldn't stand the racket. Andrew Sheet, a wealthy farmer near Indianapolis, committed suicide by drowning, on account of a threat of a breach-of-promise suit by Mollie Brown, an old maid.

Three thousand people crowded into the House at Washington to witness the funeral services of Chief Justice Waite Wednesday. An Episcopal bishop conducted them, after which the remains were taken to Toledo for burial.

At Hopkinsville Rev. Charles Beasley, pastor of the colored Baptist church, found his wife in the arms of Andrew Flack, a member of his congregation. The enraged preacher attacked his treacherous brother with a club, and his recovery is doubtful.

Milton Andes was arrested at Bardoniaville as he was getting ready to run off with Miss Susan Kane, a blooming but unsophisticated mountain girl. He has a wife in Virginia and it is charged that three indictments are pending in that State against him.

Williams & Lenders' dynamite factory, two miles west of Hartsdale, N. Y., was completely demolished by an explosion. The force was terrific and destroyed Mr. Lenders' dwelling and other buildings one-fourth of a mile away. Seven men were killed.

Field, of the Louisville Common Pleas Court, decides that the powers of national banks are entirely statutory. The act of Congress creating them allows them only to discount paper and to sell exchanges, but prohibits them from purchasing mercantile paper.

The River and Harbor Committee completed its labors and will report to the House a bill providing for an expenditure of $19,133,783.15. This is the largest bill ever reported for a similar purpose, but is owing to the fact that it covers the work for two years.

General Manager Stone, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy system, is about 57 years of age. He commenced railroad service at the bottom round, is robust, and not afraid of work. It was he who told the engineers, after they could not come to terms, "Strike and be damned."

Thirteen days before his death, Rodas Thompson, of Fayette, took out a $10,000 policy in the New York Mutual Life Insurance Company, and although the certificate of his death was signed by responsible physicians, giving the cause of his death, the policy was refused payment. The company suspected foul play and hence the resistance to the payment of the money, for which suit has been entered.

The directors of the "12" road have resolved to unanimously approve of the president's course during the late strike, and consider it is their duty to offer a steady resistance, regardless of consequences, to any attempt to take the management of the road from the hands of its owners. The places of the switchmen are being rapidly filled and the road is now moving tolerably well.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

Benedict Thurnier and Fanny Seitz obtained marriage license Wednesday.

Mr. Wm. M. Stout is confined to his home with pneumonia. He was thought to be improving Wednesday evening.

M. H. E. Wolfolk and family, who lost their residence by fire last Friday, have taken rooms at Mrs. H. Messick's, on 4th street. Mr. Wolfolk will commence to rebuild as soon as the weather is suitable.

The 3d degree of Masonry was conferred on Mr. W. D. Powell, of Harrodsburg by Franklin Lodge No. 28 of this place. Dr. E. M. Wiley and Messrs. James T. and M. V. Wilson of the Harrodsburg brethren were present.

J. B. McFerran trustee of F. W. Masonheimer, sold at auction Wednesday the stock of groceries, confectioneries, etc., belonging to the latter. Your correspondent asked about 400 people what sum the sale footed up, but no one knew.

Logan McKee, chairman of the Boyle county republican committee, has called a mass convention of the republicans of the county for Saturday next at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of electing 13 delegates to the State and district conventions which meet in Louisville May 24.

Mrs. Maria Watson, of Frankfort, died Tuesday morning of pneumonia at the residence of her sister, Mrs. C. C. Young, of this place. Her death was unexpected as she was not thought to be seriously ill. The remains were taken to Frankfort Wednesday morning. Mrs. Watson was a daughter of the late John J. Crittenden.

Of all the Yankee horn plans of make money the "memorial card" dodge is the most disgusting. Several persons in this vicinity who have recently lost friends by death, have received from a firm in Merchantsville, N. J., a black enameled card the size of a cabinet photograph containing the name of the deceased slightly misspelled or with an initial that does not belong to it together with a hackneyed verse beginning "Asleep in Jesus' blessed sleep," &c. An accompanying card commencing "Dear Friend" tells the person addressed that the firm learns that their "Dear Friend" has lately lost a beloved one; that the card is sent for inspection and that should there be any mistake in the printing it may be returned when the mistake will be gladly rectified. Further on the "Dear Friend" is told "Remember this memorial card is sent to you for inspection; you are under no obligation whatever to keep it. All we ask is that you either return the card or send us 25 cents in payment of same." Of course the name is misspelled purposely with the expectation that an order will be sent with correction, &c. The scheme is a sickening one and in this latitude at least will only excite disgust.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY. The martins have come and winter is surely gone.

Powers & Co. are filling up their store-house with goods.

Mrs. Mary Day, of Richmond, is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. H. Fox.

A. H. Rice will remove his stock of hardware to E. W. Harris' old stand.

Letcher Utley is at home on a visit from the Annapolis Naval Academy.

E. W. Lillard bought of his brother E. C. Lillard, of Anderson, a fine horse for $250.

One of our citizens was given a black eye on Monday for calling for "hen train" at a certain store in town.

L. F. Huddle, of Birmingham, is at Dr. W. S. O'Neal's. He looks like the southern climate agrees with him.

Uncle Jordan Perkins, an aged citizen of this county, is ill, and fears are entertained that he may not recover.

J. Joseph has gone to Cincinnati to buy his spring goods. John Woodcock and family have returned from Somerset. W. H. Kinnaird is in Louisville.

Miss Margaret Stuart, of Iowa, who has been sick at the home of her brother-in-law, J. B. Johnston, suffered a relapse Wednesday night and at this writing, Thursday morning, is not expected to live.

E. W. Morrow, of this city, drew the watch which was raffled at Stanford. It is a singular coincidence that Mr. Waters should have drawn the machine given away here by the News, being a newspaper man, and Mr. Morrow the watch, being himself in the jewelry business.

Ticket No. 119 drew the $55 machine given away by the Central News on Monday. Learn that the lucky man is Mr. Waters, of your city, and of the Extension Journal. It is now in order for the said Extension Journal to give away a machine and let the editor of the News or some of his force draw it.

R. E. E. Ervin, who has been pastor of the Paint Lick Presbyterian church for four years past, has accepted a call from a church at Shelby, N. C. His reason for going is on account of his health. He takes with him the love of his congregation and the good wishes of all who knew him. There is no better man than Mr. Ervin, and the church at Paint Lick will find it difficult to fill his place.

Germany has suffered $50,000,000 damages by the floods. Seventy-five cities are inundated.

Hundreds of seals are in the harbor at Plymouth, Mass. They are fearless and will allow boats to approach within easy gunshot. Seal-skin cloaks may be cheap next season.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stable.

W. H. JACKSON & CO., PROP'RS.

LONDON, KY.

Good turnouts and saddle horses always for hire on reasonable terms. London is the most convenient point on the railroad to reach places in the mountain section of the State.

1871. 1888. Lebanon Planing Mill,

A. OFFUTT, Proprietor. - LEBANON, KY.

Doors, Sash, Blinds, Frames, Casings, Base Mouldings, Mantels, Brackets, Cornices, Stairs, Newels, Balusters, Verandas, Store Fronts, Shelving, Counters, Flooring, Siding, Shingles, Laths, Rough and Dressed Lumber. Send for prices before buying elsewhere.

READ:

The following list of goods, suitable for this time of year, and buy them of me and get the best:

CANNED GOODS.	MISCELLANEOUS.
California Peaches,	Cal. Evap. Peaches,
" Pears,	" " Apricots,
" " Apricots,	Dried Peaches,
Raspberries,	Turkish Prunes,
Grated Pineapple,	Cooking Figs,
Sliced Pineapple,	Mince Meat,
Early June Peas,	Apple Butter,
Lima Beans,	Preserves,
Pie Peaches,	Mackerel in Buckets,
Corn,	Cod Fish,
Tomatoes,	White Fish,
Oysters,	Hominy,
Salmon,	Dried Beans,
Sardines,	Bulk Pickles,
Chipped Beef,	Bottle Pickles,
Corned Beef,	Catsup,
Deviled Ham.	Prepared Mustard, &c., &c.

MY STOCK OF STAPLE GROCERIES ALWAYS FULL.

NEW YORK SEED IRISH POTATOES.

Comprising Early Rose, Beauty of Hebron, Peerless and Hubbard.

WHITE & YELLOW ONION SETS.

BULK AND PAPER GARDEN SEEDS.

Highest Market Price Paid For

HAMS, SIDES, SHOULDERS AND JOWLS.

KINGSFORD'S OSWEED STARU,

In 3-Pound Paper Boxes,

IS THE BEST IN THE WORLD. JUST TRY IT.

Prices Always Reasonable And Goods Satisfactory.

T. R. WALTON.

MARK HARDIN, Clerk.

PLEASE OBSERVE

M'ROBERTS' STAGG

A FULL ASSORTMENT

WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY,

AND SILVERWARE.

Having secured the services of C. F. KENT, a practical Watch-maker with many years' experience, all work done with neatness and dispatch, fully insured. Spectacles and Eye Glasses to suit the eye.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES.

WALL PAPER and FURNITURE.

COMPLETE STOCK ALWAYS ON HAND.

B. K. WEAREN.

Germany has suffered $50,000,000 damages by the floods. Seventy-five cities are inundated.

Hundreds of seals are in the harbor at Plymouth, Mass. They are fearless and will allow boats to approach within easy gunshot. Seal-skin cloaks may be cheap next season.

The directors of the "12" road have resolved to unanimously approve of the president's course during the late strike, and consider it is their duty to offer a steady resistance, regardless of consequences, to any attempt to take the management of the road from the hands of its owners. The places of the switchmen are being rapidly filled and the road is now moving tolerably well.

Thirteen days before his death, Rodas Thompson, of Fayette, took out a $10,000 policy in the New York Mutual Life Insurance Company, and although the certificate of his death was signed by responsible physicians, giving the cause of his death, the policy was refused payment. The company suspected foul play and hence the resistance to the payment of the money, for which suit has been entered.

The house of Mrs. Peter Bertine, of Bathurst, N. B., was burned during the absence of the mother and two young girls were burned to death.

George N. Hawes, of Paris, died after 10 years of self-chosen seclusion in one room, and never voluntarily speaking to any one in that time.

The president and cashier of the Raleigh State National Bank have joined Tate in Canada with $45,000 of the bank's funds and it has failed for $250,000.

The floods along the Vistula, Elbe and other have submerged 40 villages and rendered 8,000 persons homeless and in ruined circumstances.

It is stated that Tate was heavily into the wheat deal with the Fidelity bank at Cincinnati and blew in a good $100,000 in that item alone.

The whole State is howling because Col. Johnston was permitted to prevent the investigating committee to examine Tate's papers, &c., in the Treasury. The colonel ought to have been shoved aside. There is no time now for shenanigans.

